WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 20th, 1904.

Editor Press:—

When the Filipino Commissioners visited the President a few weeks ago he asked some of them how soon they thought their people would be ready to have a General Assembly called for the purpose of considering local legislation. Some of the Commissioners replied that the time had already come. Since then they have sent a petition to the President, by the hands of Secretary Taft, urging him to take the matter into serious and early consideration. One reason for their so doing is the fact that the U. S. Philippine Commissioners have promulgated a series of internal revenue laws, which, with the customs duties, the Filipinos think will be of deep interest to the inhabitants of the island. Since they must provide the revenue they ask for the privilege of having something to say about the objects for which the money shall be appropriated. In any event they think their law should be considered and ratified by the representatives of the people. Your correspondent called to-day at the revenue division of the Treasury and was informed that thus far the Government has no internal revenue officer in the Philippines, but there is one in Hawaii. It was also thought at the Treasury that only Congress can pass laws for purposes of taxation, since that is the way provided by the Constitution. Under these circumstances it is understood that President Roosevelt will soon do all he prudently can to ameliorate commercial conditions in our Eastern possessions. And he may issue orders for calling together a National Assembly, with limited powers, much sooner than the "anti-imperialists" imagine. Signs are not wanting that a number of American houses stand ready to make investigations in the Philippines as a result of what they have seen at the St. Louis Exposition.

Owing to the fact that it is understood that the Democrats will make a desperate effort to reduce pluralities in Vermont and Maine, announcement is made that next week Secretary Taft will deliver speeches in Montpelier, Vt., and in Portland, Me., on his way to join his family at Murray Bay, near the mouth of the St. Lawrence, where they are spending the summer. Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, will visit the same States a little later. With the departure of the President to-day for another month's outing at Oyster Bay, very few Cabinet ministers will remain in town. Secretary Metcalf is already on his way to California to close up his private business, which he says he left at a two days notice. Morton is touring along the Atlantic coast and has Att'y Moody with him. Secretary Hay, having warned foreign powers what they can and what they must not do, will soon return to New Hampshire. He is receiving numerous telegrams of congratulation over the news of the birth of a grandson—John Hay Whitney, the mother of whom was pleasantly known here in Washington as Helen Hay. Secretary Shaw will also go to the Pacific coast, making speeches in the states west of the Rocky mountains, and one or two in Utah.

All the news which drifts into Washington from drifting politicians, and otherwise, regarding the prospects and progress of the campaign, is full of cheer and hope for the Repubicans. It is considered very unwise, politically, to force an issue of the negro suffrage question in West Virginia; the Georgia lynching will lose tens of thousands of Democratic votes in the North and West to the party; and the tricks resorted to in Maryland will probably land that state in the Republican column. Fish Commissioner Bowers, of West Virginia predicts a Republican plurality of 17,000 in that state. It is denied by Congressmen visiting in this city that there is any likelihood of Wisconsin, Indiana or Illinois going Democratic.

I met Gen. Black on the street a few days ago, in a great rush to catch the cars for Boston where he made a speech that is attracting much attention.

The grade of Sixth street, west of Vine is being raised.

Thomas E. Watson's View of the Democracy.

Four years ago and eight years ago the Independent was hand in glove with the Populists supporting Bryan. Now it has abandoned Bryanism and is supporting Parker. But the Populists have the merit of consistency and are not supporting Parker. This is what their candidate, Mr. Watson, says of the Democracy:

"Boiled down to its real essence, sifted to its real meaning, the Democratic campaign of 1904 is a mere unscrupulous hanger for office. They have no fixed or certain creed. They have no article of faith by which Democratic loyalty can be tested.

"You may ask why do I consume more time discussing the Democratis than in speaking of the Republicans. My reply is: It is easier and quicker to strike an open enemy right between the eyes than it is to tear off the mask from the face of a pretended friend and show him to be the hypocrite that he is."

Brought Good Times.

An Irishman in New York was asked the other day whom he is going to vote for this fall.

"Why, Billy Bryan, of course," was the reply.

"But Bryan is not running this year."

"I don't care whether he is or not; I'm going to vote for him. I voted for him four years ago and eight years ago, and haven't we had good times ever since?"—New York Times.

Important.

Mr. William T. Seger, representing the Harlem Music Co., of New York, will be in Emporium, Friday, August 26th. Mr. Seger is to combine pleasure and business on this trip home. While here he will have on exhibition at the store room of R. Seger & Son the celebrated high grade piano of Becker Bro's., together with other musical merchandise, and the very latest sheet music at City prices. To those desiring to purchase an elegant instrument will now have an excellent opportunity of obtaining a high grade piano at exceptional value.

To those not in a position to pay cash, Mr. Seger will explain an entirely new system, thereby bringing the piano within reach of all. "Home without a piano is the same as a rose without fragrance."

Those having instruments with which they are dissatisfied can obtain one of these celebrated pianos by exchange, for which we will allow a fair sum, according to the condition of same.

Orders for tuning and polishing will be received at R. Seger & Son's. Mr. Seger extends a most cordial invitation to his friends, and their friends, to attend the opening on Saturday, August 27th.

An Appreciative Fact.

A young gentleman (?) was heard to make a sneering remark in regard to a young man's being a "mother's boy," being "tied to mother's apron string," etc. He, in the density of his ignorance, did not know that he was paying to this young man the greatest compliments which he could bestow. As has often been said, no love can compare to a mother's love. Who, when the world, hasty in its judgments, has condemned a young man, comes to his aid with the whole strength of her being, and if necessary with the last drop of her blood? You hesitate not to answer: "His mother." In what way can a young man repay the one to whom he owes his existence, and who has exerted an uplifting influence on his whole life? in no way can he hope to repay her, but the least he might do is is to try at all times to do nothing that will cause her pain. And then to the young girl who hesitates to decide whether she wishes to link her life with that of a young man. How does he treat his mother? Don't ask the mother. If she sees his faults she will not tell of them. Encourage the young man to speak of his mother, and expect when you are his wife to be spoken of in the same way. Young man, when you feel inclined to scoff at your companion's devotion to his mother, don't do it. It only exposes the coarseness of your make-up and your lack of intelligence.—Port Allegany Reporter.

Mr. Howard's Speech of Acceptance.

It is several months since Mr. Josiah Howard was nominated for the Assembly on the Republican ticket. His stirring and thoughtful address accepting the nomination was printed in full in the PRESS last April. Now that the active campaign is opening we wish to call attention again to this excellent address. We congratulate the party and the county on the presence in the field of a candidate who has such a high and broad conception of our common American life and of the relation of political service to that life. Mr. Howard is universally esteemed for his high and pure character and is recognized as a man of rare business sagacity and sound judgment. But we wish to emphasize particularly the fact that he is a man capable of understanding life under its higher and broader aspects, and who always views the simplest duties in relation to the largest ends and interests.

It is a distinctive merit of this address that it reveals Mr. Howard's large comprehension of the nature and meaning of our American life. He views it as a whole, and in its essential parts as related to the whole. The home, the Church, the school, the place of work and the place of recreation and amusement, are viewed by him as they stand in relation to one great common life. These fundamental institutions are to the life of the community and state, viewed as a whole, what the various organs of the body are to the body as a whole. Mr. Howard's view of life is essentially an organic view. It is at least worth remembering that the capacity for organic thought is an indispensable element in statesmanship.

Mr Howard's conception of the way in which the ends of our common American life are to be realized is strong and positive. He believes in liberty and independence, but not in the false and shallow sense in which those terms are often used. Merely to turn a man loose is not to give him true freedom and independence. Life, liberty and happiness need something more to produce them than merely the overthrow of a a tyrannical power. Our fathers soon learned that the War of Independence was the very least part in the making of a free and independent people. Freedom and independence must be realized through positive and not through mere negative action.

It is our positive institutions, our schools, our churches, our workshops, our commerce, our banks, that build up the life of our people and enable us to realize true freedom and independence. Mr. Howard is thoroughly imbued with this positive idea of the nature of government, and he is a Republican because the Republican party emphaeises that idea and has been the chief agency in applying it in our national life. The conception of liberty which the Democratic party has always cherished is that of mere absence of restraint. The conception of independence which the Democratic party has always cherished is that of mere escape from external tyranny. But something more positive than this is needed if there is to be progress. It is the Republican party which pre-eminently stands for that positive tendency and emphasis which has founded and sustained schools, has fostered trade, has protected and developed industry and has given to our government a place of posittve power and influence in the world. If we are to judge men and parties by the underlying principles which they represent, there is no more thorough going representative of Republicanism to be found anywhere than Mr. Josiah Howard. The genius of Republicanism and true Americanism finds expression in his speech of acceptance.

The Home Paper.

An exchanges publishes the following on the subject of the relation of the "home paper" to the people of a community:

"Someone has well said that 'your home paper never looses interest in you.' This possibly you have never given a passing thought. No matter whether you like the newspaper man or he likes you, if he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people, he allows no personal matters or petty spites to interfere with his work of news gathering. He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best and dearest friends chronicle your success and your sorrows wherever you may be. Those who would forget you but for your home paper, are ever and anon reminded of your existence by some item in the village paper where you spent your boyhood days. Others may deceive and defraud you, but the home paper never forgets you. Possibly you do not always deserve it, but a newspaper on the right lines has no pets, and should it at any time say things that cause your fur to turn the wrong way, study a moment and see if it has not at various times said nice things which you fail to give it credit."

Not so Profitable.

The raising of genseng is not so profitable as many people have been led to believe. The Agricultural department in a recent report says that the growing of the root is merely a craze or fad. Prior to the year 1902 China imported from this country only 175,000 pounds of genseng in four years.—A quantity that could easily be raised on a farm of 75 acres. "Let genseng alone. It is a delusion and a snare," is the advice of Secretary Wilson of the department.

Musical To-Night.

All lovers of music will enjoy the Musical at the First Methodist Episcopal Church to-night as the program is especially rich in the standard and classical selections which it offers. And the well known reputation of those who will take part amply justifies the prediction that no similar entainment could please better. Doors open at 7:30; concert begins at 8:15.

The ... ing to Do.

"I don't know what to do with this man," mused the agricultural editor. "He asks: 'What shall I do with my hens? Every morning I find several of them dead.'"

"That's easy," replied the snake editor. "Tell him to bury them."

Teachers' Examination.

A special examination will be held in Emporium High School building, Saturday, August 27. Examinations will begin at 8:30 a. m.

MATTIE M. COLLINS,

The Ice Cream sale by the St. Marks congregation last Thursday night was a decided success. The occasion was enlivened by the presence of the Emporium band that rendered some good music.

The Independent calls President Roosevelt "the political hypocrite of the twentieth century." It would be more to the point to know what President Roosevelt would say of the Independent.

The United States is the only great nation in the world that spends more for education than for war; that the chief concern of the thoughtful to-day not respecting the one per cent who attended college and universities, but with regard to the ninety per cent who attend our public schools; that these will rule, and to have good laws we must have good citizens, and it is futile to bate our common school system in college or university training. We would have the masses to study such branches as will meet life's necessities and these branches, are reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography, grammer, American history, drawing, and the underlying principles of hygenic physiology. "Let us see that we build our pyramids form the common school upward. Let us provide education first of all for those who can never go beyond the public school."—Ex.

"The best of everything and everything of the best" is the motto of that great showman, Sig. Sautelle, whose Nine Consolidated Railroad Shows will give an afternoon and evening performance in Emporium, Tuesday Sept, 6. Unless one has seen this enormous circus it is impossible to form any conception of its magnitude. Performances high up in the air, in three rings, on elevated stages, in a wild west arena and on a mammoth hippodrome track (each in itself a complete show) are combined under one vast tent and may be witnessed by the purchase of a single ticket. Only artists of recognized merit and reputation in Europe and America have been engaged this season for the incomparable Sautelle shows. Among the performers who appear during each exhibition are unrivaled champion aerialists whose infallibility in the presentation of their stupendous exploits is no less a wonder than is the astonishing ease and grace with which they are executed. These thrilling and audacious feats devote the possession of great courage, confidence and power and never fail to elicit the warmest kind of praise from on lookers. Then there are a host of acrobats in numberless originally devised breath taking achievements; all-featured equestrian acts as conspicuous for novelty as for genuine worth and the grace with which they are accomplished; troupes of handsome blooded horses and cute ponies in remarkable displays of sagacity and intelligence; other educated animals that do seemingly impossible feats at a low spoken word of command and a countless number of other acts, each and all of which tend to keep Sig. Sautelle's shows well in advance of their contemporaries. See big advertisement in this issue.

IS IT YOU?

Some one's selfish, some one's lazy;
Is it you?
Some one's sense of right is hazy;
Is it you?
Some one lives a life of ease,
Doing largely as he please—
Drifting idly with the breeze;
Is it you?

Some one hopes success will find him;
Is it you?
Some one proudly looks behind him;
Is it you?
Some one full of good advice
Seems to think it rather nice
In a has-been's paradise—
Is it you?

Some one trusts to luck for winning;
Is it you?
Some one craves a new beginning;
Is it you?
Some one says: "I never had
Such a chance as Jones' lad."
Some one's likewise quite a cad—
Is it you?

Some one's terribly mistaken;
Is it you?
Some one sadly will awaken;
Is it you?
Some one's working on the plan
That a masterful "I can"
Doesn't help to make the Man—
Is it you?

Some one yet may "make a "killing;"
And it's you.
Some one needs but to be willing,
And it's you.
Some one better set his jaw,
Cease to be a man of straw,
Get some sand into his craw—
And it's you.

WHEN THE TIDE CAME IN

By EDGAR WELTON COOLEY

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

WEARY, but radiant with happiness, Clark Morgan walked rapidly up the street from the modest station building through the gathering twilight. A combination of fortunate circumstances had enabled him to conclude his business affairs 24 hours sooner than he had anticipated, and he had thus been enabled to reach home on the evening of his wife's birthday.

This fact added elasticity to his steps and buoyancy to his spirits. He had a little present for Gertrude tucked away in his grip, an inexpensive little bauble, but one she had long desired.

He planned to slip in upon her and take her by surprise. Then he would present her with the gift, and they would sit under the maples and watch the darkness deepen, see the fireflies arise from the grass and hear the booming of the beetles through the gloom, and the splashing of the sea upon the rocks.

Quietly he slipped through the gate, when he reached the summer cottage, crept silently across the lawn, and entered noiselessly at the side door.

The living room was vacant; the last rays of the sun struggled through the lace curtains and kissed the ceiling. Shadows hovered in the corners; a deep silence reigned everywhere—a silence perfumed by a vase of lilies-of-the-valley on the table.

For a moment he paused in the center of the room, then a slight rustle from the parlor reached him, and he smiled.

Softly he stepped to the portieres and, drawing one of them slightly, peeped through the narrow opening.

Gertrude stood near the piano. At her side was James Bernard. His arm encircled her waist; her arms were around his neck; her head was slightly bowed; his lips were pressed against her forehead.

James Bernard was Clark Morgan's closest personal friend. The latchstring at the Morgan home had always been out to him.

Silently the portiere slipped from the husband's fingers and blotted the picture from his sight. For a moment he stood immovable, and a thousand thoughts passed through his mind.

Then he turned his head and glanced out the window, gazing for miles across the restless sea. On the far horizon rested a jagged rock—Fisherman's Point—like a grim monument to his dead happiness. From the sea a deep gloom swept toward him. He stretched forth his arms as though to welcome it. If it were only everlasting oblivion!

Again his glance rested upon Fisherman's Point. It was sinking from sight; the tide was rising. It would go down into the sea and the waves would sweep over it, like the waves were sweeping over him. But on the morrow it would rise again, even as he would when the great sorrow had passed.

Thinking thus, he crept out again into the shadows, and when he returned it was with a merry whistle and a radiant smile. His wife met him at the door and he kissed her and extended his hand to Bernard.

"How nice that we can all spend the evening together,' he said; "it will be a pleasant ending to Gertrude's birthday."

He smiled at his wife, but her eyes dropped before his, and he thought he saw the suspicion of a blush upon her cheek.

"Yes," replied Bernard, carelessly, "I dropped in to congratulate Mrs. Morgan upon her anniversary."

"A kindness we both very much appreciate, I am sure," Morgan answered, "and, my dear," he added, smiling pleasantly at his wife, "I have planned a little diversion for to-morrow. They say angling is fine off Fisherman's Point, and I suggest we three—now don't say you can't spare the time, Bernard, old chap—sail out there tomorrow afternoon, taking along some luncheon and enjoy the sport until dusk."

"How delightful!" exclaimed Mrs. Morgan, jubilantly. "Of course you will go, Mr. Bernard?"

"Of course," insisted Mr. Morgan.

"Of course," insisted Mr. Bernard, laughing.

The sunshine fell brilliantly upon the sea, kissing the waves that lashed the base of Fisherman's Point into a spray of diamonds. Above, the sky arched, a blue canopy. The air, tempered by the salt moisture, was cool and pleasant.

The three, in Clark Morgan's sail boat, anchored just off the Point, fished and laughed, and were jolly. And Morgan was the merriest of them all. The others were kept laughing at his witticisms.

He had his kodak with him, and he took several shots at the rocks, the gently swelling waves, and at the only boat that passed during the afternoon.

When the tide began rising, Morgan was the first to note the slowly upward creeping of the sea upon the rocks. A smile trembled upon his lips and a strange fire burned in his eyes.

From the locker of the boat he produced a bottle of champagne, and, pouring out three glasses, handed one each to his wife and Bernard. Then, raising his own, he said:

"Here is to Love that is true,
Here is to Honor, that's real.
Love and Honor and you—
A trinity stamped with God's seal."

He touched the glass to his lips, but the others, astounded, hesitated.

"Why don't you drink?" he cried; "why don't you drink to love and honor—the twin stars in life's diadem? No other virtues are so blessed or so rare as love and honor!"

The words were spoken as though in pleasantry. Not the suspicion of a sneer accompanied them; not a spark from the fire that was consuming his soul, was visible.

So, together, they drank the toast, and when they had finished, Morgan broke his glass upon the boat's rail and watched the pieces sink into the sea.

The tide was now rising rapidly. Already the lowest crevices on Fisherman's Point were under water.

Suddenly Clark Morgan glanced at his wife. "My dear," he said, "I was thinking what a beautiful picture I could take if you and Bernard would pose for me a moment on the rocks—you, kneeling in your white gown, my dear, and Bernard, in this robe, holding this cruicifix in his hand, with the waves all but kissing your feet, and the broad sea in the background."

As he spoke, he unrolled a package he had taken, with the champagne, from the locker, and now held up a priest's robe and beads.

"Bravo!" cried Bernard, enthusiastically. "You are a thorough artist, Clark; it is a splendid conception."

"See, my dear," he said, "the tide is nearly to where we stand. Now kneel right here, your hands clasped so, and your eyes turned upward, so; that's right. Now, Bernard, hold the crucifix, there, that's right; ah, that's perfect. Throw your head back a little more, Gertrude, so your hair will fall over your shoulders more, there. Now, I'll sail away from the rock a few rods, so as to get a better focus. Ah, this is going to be one of the triumphs of my life."

Talking cheerily as he clambered over the rocks, Morgan descended to the boat and hoisted sail. Twenty yards from the Point he put the helm about, and the boat turned its bow gracefully towards the far away shore.

A light breeze was blowing landward, and before this he slowly sailed, making no pretense to check his course.

After 15 minutes or so, he glanced back at the man and woman on the rocks. His wife had risen to her feet and stood with her face towards him. He could see the startled look in her eyes.

He waved his hand at them. "Behold!" he cried, "purity and godliness upon a granite pinnacle!"

A half hour passed before he again looked back. Gertrude and Bernard were standing upon the topmost point of rock, and the tide was nearly at their feet. With the aid of his glass he could see the look of horror on the woman's face and the desperation in the eyes of the man.

His wife's hair was shining wet with the dashing spray, and tears glistened upon her cheeks.

Then the twilight deepened, deepened, and finally Fisherman's Point was but an indistinct dot upon the horizon, with miles of foaming sea on every side.

But, in his drifting boat, Clark Morgan sat and watched Fisherman's Point through his glass. He saw the man clasp the woman in his arms; he saw the woman put her hands to her eyes as though to shut out the sight of death creeping nearer, nearer; he watched the tide rise to their knees, to their waists, to their shoulders—then the darkness became so heavy he could not longer distinguish them from the spray.

From the locker he took another bottle of champagne. Filling a glass with the sparkling liquid, he extended it toward the dense gloom that enshrouded the Point and cried:

"Here is to Love that is true;
Here is to Honor that's real.
"Love and Honor and you—
A trinity—"

During the night a sail boat drifted upon the mud banks, where fishermen found it. In the bottom was the dead body of a man.

"Heart disease," pronounced the learned coroner, solemnly.

In a court case it was claimed that a man tried to fool his wife by pretending that he was intoxicated. That is a new one. Many men, however, have tried to fool their wives by pretending that they were strictly sober.

COLLISION AT GRADE CROSSING

A TROLLEY TRAIN RAN INTO AN EXPRESS TRAIN.

Four People Killed and 24 Injured at Chicago — Brakes on Trolley Train Refused to Work.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Four people were killed, another fatally hurt and 23 severely injured in a collision late Wednesday afternoon between an express train on the Chicago Great Western railroad and a train of three trolley cars bound for the Hawthorne race track.

The accident occurred at the crossing of Forty-eighth avenue and the Chicago Great Western tracks. The train was coming into the city and, according to some witnesses of the accident, was running at a high rate of speed. Others and the train crew declare that it was not going over 20 miles an hour. The trolley train, which was made up of a motor car and two trailers, in charge of Conductor W. H. Condon and Motorman Michael Ryan, approached the crossing at a rapid rate, just as the train came around a sharp curve west of the crossing. Ryan put on the brakes with all his strength, in the effort to stop his car, but the brakes refused to work, and with undiminished speed the motor car ran up on the tracks at the same time that the locomotive came up.

The car struck the train just between the engine and the tender. The motor car was torn to splinters and the car immediately behind it was knocked over, smashed nearly to pieces and dragged along the track for 100 feet. The third car was not dragged from the tracks, and but for the fact that the couplings between it and the second trailer broke, the list of injured would probably be much larger, as all of the cars were filled with passengers.

The motorman remained at his post to the last and was fatally hurt, his skull being fractured. To people who came to aid him while he lay on the ground, he said:

"The brakes would not work. That was what caused it. When I saw that they would not work, I reversed the current. Now get aside and be quiet and I will be all right."

All the members of the Chicago Great Western train crew and the conductors of the trolley cars were arrested pending the inquiry of the coroner.

DAVIS IS NOTIFIED.

Democratic Nominee for Vice President Is Told of the Action of the St. Louis Convention.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Aug. 18.—Henry Gassaway Davis was formally notified yesterday that he is the nominee of the democratic party for vice president of the United States. Mr. Davis accepted the nomination in a brief speech reviewing the political situation, echoing the sentiments of Judge Parker on the money question and expressing the determination to be successful in the campaign.

Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, chairman of the notification committee of the St. Louis convention, delivered the notification address.

The ceremonies were held on the lawn of the White Sulphur Springs hotel, which affords a natural amphitheater, the ground sloping up from the speaker's stand on all sides and sheltered by huge spreading oaks.

Hundreds of enthusiastic democrats had assembled from the Virginias and bordering states, and heavy train loads brought others from a distance. Sturdy mountaineers came on horseback, on foot and in wagons with their families. The ceremonies were marked with the utmost simplicity. The famous Stonewall Brigade band, of Staunton, Va., organized by Gen. Jackson, played stirring airs. A pretty incident occurred at the conclusion of the ceremonies, when 17 ladies from Atlanta, Ga., all bearing the Georgia state flag, came forward to congratulate the candidate.

A Crooked Scheme.

New York, Aug. 18.—When Habar J. Aflak, a wealthy Syrian merchant of Hayti, was arrested yesterday in connection with the alleged naturalization frauds upon which the United States officials in this city have been at work some time, it was announced that a widespread traffic in fraudulent naturalization papers issued by the courts of Connecticut had been brought to light. Hundreds of citizens of the little republic of Hayti are involved in the alleged frauds. According to the officials, the papers were secured by wealthy residents of Hayti and other South American republics for protection purposes.

Were Ready to Lynch a Kidnapper.

Pittsburg, Aug. 18.—An Italian, who it is alleged attempted to kidnap Helen White, a child 5 years old, narrowly escaped lynching in Allegheny yesterday and was only saved from serious injury by the arrival of the police. The Italian first gave the little girl peanuts and candy and was starting away with her in his arms when he was seen by a neighbor, who pulled the child from him. The word spread that it was the work of the Italian society of the "Black Hand."

A Jail Delivery.

Lockport, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Anthony Brunner, James Finlay and Joseph Quinn overpowered Deputy Gardner and made their escape from the jail. The men threw red pepper into Gardner's eyes and then beat him into insensibility. They took his gun and keys and then overpowered Deputy Hamlin in the jail office. Gardner regained consciousness and, seizing another gun, circled around the jail to head the men off as they appeared above the courtyard wall. Shots were exchanged, but without effect. The men made their escape.

POWER FROM NIAGARA FALLS.

Three New Companies on the Canadian Side Are Arranging to Generate Electricity with Turbines.

Three companies are now working hard on the Canadian side of the Niagara to prepare for generating electrical power from the falls. Two of these companies are controlled by American capital, the third exclusively by Canadian and English capital. All expect to sell their product on the Canadian side and to distribute power to points as much as 200 miles distant from the falls.

Each company has encountered some interesting engineering problems in the course of the work. One company, for example, has had to plan for a roof of unusual strength over its power house, because it is expected that the spray from the falls in winter will thatch the roof with five feet of solid ice.

No part of the work is more interesting than that undertaken by the Canadian company. The penstock, or great trench, of this company, at the bottom of which will be placed the turbines that are to generate the power, is 1,900 feet from the center of the Horseshoe falls.

This great trench is to be 150 feet deep by 400 feet long and 30 feet wide. The problem presented was to discharge the water from the bottom of this trench after it had passed through the turbines and done its work.

The engineers decided that in order to accomplish this a tunnel should be extended from the bottom of the penstock to the center of the Horseshoe falls. For this purpose a shaft about ten feet square was sunk on the Canadian side a little above the falls to a depth of about 150 feet.

WASH-DAY NOW A PLEASURE.

Virginia Man Connects His Bicycle with Rotary Washing Machine and Saves Labor.

H. G. Hitner, a resident of Edinburg, Va., has been exercising his inventive genius and the result of his efforts is that the weekly family wash day, instead of being a burden as it is to most people, is the day he most enjoys of any of the six whereon man is permitted to labor. He is the owner of a rotary washing machine which he geared to his bicycle after the latter had been suspended in a frame. After the clothing has been placed in the machine, with the usual supply of water and soap, Harry lights a cigar, mounts his bicycle and wheels away.

By the time he has pedaled enough to take him to New Market, if the wheels were on the ground, the clothing has been washed, he has had an enjoyable ride, and he and his wife are correspondingly happy. This is only one of the many new things that have been inaugurated in Edinburg during the past few months, and it helps to prove what everybody says about us, viz.: "The old town is surely on a boom."

Recently the weather has gotten too hot for Harry to pedal, so he has attached a motorcycle to the machine, and he now swings in his hammock and basks in the early morning sunshine while the motorcycle does the washing.

Dog Fires Gunpowder.

By the light of a tallow candle, William Wolf was engaged in unloading gun shells at his home in Philadelphia. Beside him a pointer dog lay watching the operation, occasionally thumping his tail against the chair on which rested the candle. Finally the dog's tail came in contact with the candle, overturning it and sending it into the can in which Wolf had placed the powder. An explosion followed, and Wolf was probably fatally burned.

JUST ONE DAY

Free from the Slugger Brought Out a Fact.

"During the time I was a coffee drinker," says an Iowa woman, "I was nervous, had spells with my heart, smothering spells, headache, stomach trouble, liver and kidney trouble. I did not know for years what made me have those spells. I would frequently sink away as though my last hour had come.

"For 27 years I suffered thus and used bottles of medicines enough to set up a drug store—capsules and pills and everything I heard of. Spent lots of money but I was sick nearly all the time. Sometimes I was so nervous I could not hold a plate in my hands; and other times I thought I would surely die sitting at the table.

"This went on until about two years ago when one day I did not use any coffee and I noticed I was not so nervous and told my husband about it. He had been telling me that it might be the coffee but I said: 'No, I have been drinking coffee all my life and it cannot be.' But after this I thought I would try and do without it and drink hot water. I did this for several days but got tired of the hot water and went to drinking coffee and as soon as I began coffee again I was nervous again. This proved that it was the coffee that caused my troubles.

"We had tried Postum but had not made it right and did not like it, but now I decided to give it another trial so I read the directions on the package carefully and made it after these directions and it was simply delicious, so we quit coffee for good and the results are wonderful. Before, I could not sleep, but now I go to bed and sleep sound, am not a bit nervous now but work hard and can walk miles. Nervous headaches are gone, my heart does not bother me any more like it did and I don't have any of the smothering spells and would you believe it? I am getting fat. We drink Postum now and nothing else, and even my husband's headaches have disappeared; we both sleep sound and healthy now and that's a blessing." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

IN WESTERN CANADA

THREE DIVISIONS AFFORDING CHANCE FOR SETTLEMENT.

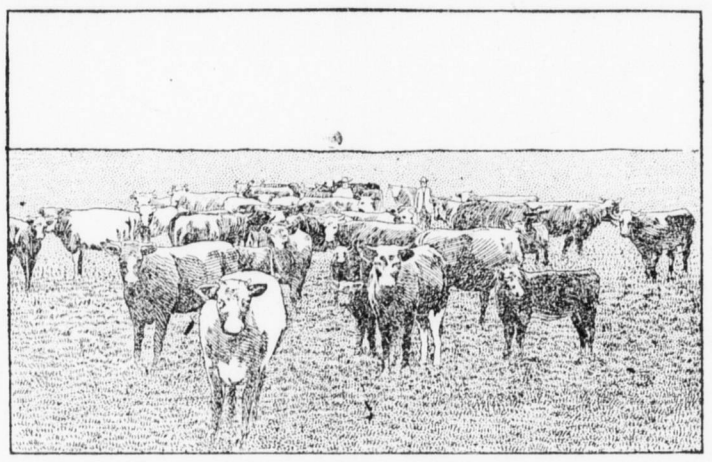
They Are Specially Adapted to Ranching, Wheat Growing and Mixed Farming—Many Americans Settling There.

The old Romans used to say that Gaul was divided into three parts. So is the Canadian northwest. Gaul's divisions were political; those of western Canada's prairies are created by the unerring hand of nature.

The First Division.

Chiefly because of the elevation of the country, the absence of large lakes and rivers, and the operations of the "Chinook" or Pacific ocean winds, which readily cross the Rocky mountains in southern Alberta through gaps and passes, the southwestern portion of the Canadian provinces is regarded as somewhat arid, and less fertile than other portions of the country. Although this has been a prevailing idea in the east, it has been left for American settlers who have invaded this district within the past two or three years to prove that splendid crops of grain can be grown on the land which had hitherto been the feeding ground for the herds of cattle and bands of horses that ranged here.

That ranching is carried on most successfully in other portions of the prairies west, just as agriculture is to a limited extent conducted successfully within this boundary, is fully established, but taken as a whole it constitutes a territory above all others most admirably adapted to this particular industry.



A HERD OF CANADIAN SHORTHORNS.

The buffalo, bunch and other grasses that grow in profusion in this district and retain their nutritive properties the year round, and the moderate climate of mid-winter rendered such by the Chinook winds preventing any considerable depth of snow at any time, especially fit the district for the peculiar methods of the rancher—raising his herds the year round in the open country.

While there are no large lakes or rivers in this whole country there are numerous fast-running streams fed the year round by melting snows in the mountains furnishing an abundance of the coolest and purest water, the best for beast as well as man. The country has at once an abundance of the best of food and drink the year round, a clear sky but little wet or stormy weather and a favorable climate the year through.

Englishmen and Americans in the western territories are bringing in their herds as fast as they can and leasing or purchasing land in lots from 1,000 to 20,000 acres from the Dominion government. An idea of the growth of the industry will be gathered from the fact that in 1899 there were but 41,471 head of cattle shipped and sold from the ranches, these figures ran to 55,129 in 1900, and to 160,000 in 1903, averaging $40 per head for the owners. But it takes a great many ranchers and a large number of cattle to cover an area of 200,000,000 acres, the area available for ranching in the Canadian northwest.

It is not at all necessary that large investments should be made at the outset. Many men commenced with small capital and small herds, and have worked themselves into large herds and great wealth. There is still in the country plenty of room for those who desire to go and do likewise.

Second Part.

The second part of the Canadian prairies embraces the great wheat growing belt of the country which is easily a half larger than any other in the world. It includes about 150,000,000 acres. As it is comparatively free of broken land, large lakes and rivers, about 125,000,000 acres of it can be brought under the plow. Placing a farmer on every half-section (320 acres), it can comfortably locate 800,000 farmers or 4,000,000 of an agricultural community. A glance now at what the farmers of the territories are doing will give a better idea of what can be done in this great wheat-growing zone. The territorial government reports show that in 1903 there were raised 16,629,149 bushels of spring wheat off of 837,234 acres, an average of 19.04 bushels per acre; off 440,662 acres of oats there were grown 14,179,705 bushels, an average of 32.17 bushels per acre; 69,667 acres produced 1,741,209 bushels of barley—24.65 to the acre, and 32,431 acres produced 292,855 bushels of flax seed, 9.03 to the acre. As but 1,383,434 acres or a little better than one per cent. of the entire wheat-growing area of the territories was under crop, a little figuring shows 13 per cent. of the entire country under wheat will raise the 200,000,000 that Great Britain annually requires from outside countries.

It must not be supposed for a moment that while this part of the country is outlined as the especially favorable district for wheat growing, it is not good for mixed operations as well. It is because it is level, has a sufficient rainfall every year, plenty of snow in the winter for moisture in the early spring and favorable climatic conditions the year round that it is specially marked for this branch of husbandry.

In this part of the country wheat is king, and here it is raised in the greatest possible perfection by a combination of soil and climate in its favor, and the tendency has been to neglect the more laborious branches of husbandry for which the country is equally well adapted.

As if to cope with the offerings of nature, the railway companies are ready with their railways to haul the grain as soon as it is relieved from the straw in the fields by the threshers. Throughout this entire belt there is an enormous length of railway mileage, branches are radiating in every direction from the trunks until they scarcely leave a grain field more than six or seven miles from a road, and they are all required, for in the fall and early winter the sight of the trains passing to and from the elevators at the railway depots makes the entire country look like one hive of industry.

Free Homestead Lands.

There is yet a large quantity of government land for homesteading in this country, and as in everything else "the early bird catches the worm." Those who come first are first served. When it is preferred to purchase railway or other company lands they can be got at from five dollars per acre up. This section cannot be better closed than by showing practically what is made by wheat growing in this district. The average from the first of operations is 20 bushels per acre. Breaking the prairie, as first plowed is called, is of course an exceptional expenditure, as when it is once done it is done for all time. This costs about $3.50 per acre. After the breaking, plowing and seeding, harvesting, threshing and marketing, all expenses combined amount to about $5.25 per acre; that is, if a man has everything done it will cost him $5.25 per acre. If he does the work himself he is earning wages while producing at that figure. Now as the average yield is 20 bushels, and the average price 60 cents—$12 per acre—the difference between the result and cost, $6.75, is the profit of grain growing year in and year out in the great wheat belt of the Canadian prairie country. If a man has a half section of land and puts half of it, 160 acres, under wheat, which is a very common occurrence, he makes $1,080 on wheat alone and should make if he is a capable farmer enough out of other crops, sale of cattle, dairy and other products to keep himself and family the year round besides.

The Third Division.

The third division of this great country lies to the north of the wheat belt, between it and what is known as the forest country. As wheat growing implies the raising of all cereals, that can profitably be raised in the country, the remaining branches of mixed farming are dairying and the raising of farm stock. It must not be supposed that dividing the prairies in this way is saying that any one portion of the country possesses better soil than another, for such is not the case—all districts are equally fertile, but the topography and climatic influences differ, as well as the conditions for production. Ranching and grain growing are carried on quite successfully in this northern zone; but it is found more profitable to combine all the features of the industry. On account of the land being more broken than in the southern district, though the soil is equally fertile, there are not the same opportunities for extensive operations; and while cattle raising is as profitable here as elsewhere, different methods have to be adopted for their protection, especially in the winter season.

An authority on the subject has stated that agriculture in any country never reaches the minimum of development until the farmers engage at least proportionately in dairying, though the surroundings must always determine the extent to which any feature of the industry may be prosecuted. It is certainly then that if the agricultural possibilities of this portion of the prairie country be estimated by its adaptability to dairy farming even the most skeptical must acknowledge they are unsurpassed in any country in the world. As intimated above, even dairying may be successfully carried on in any corner of the territories, but this zone has everything to recommend it as the ideal spot for this branch of the business.

The mining districts of British Columbia, which consume an immense lot of dairy products, are close at hand and always afford a good market for butter, cheese, pork, poultry and eggs.

SAVED FOR THE FISH TRADE

He Had Too Much Intellect to Be "Hove Away" on a Doctor.

The fish-man drove into the yard a few days after the new summer residents had taken possession of their home, and seeing an open door he stepped in and confronted the mistress of the house, relates Youth's Companion.

"Gettin' settled, I s'pose," he said, agreeably, allowing his gaze to wander from two half-unpacked trunks to a table loaded with miscellaneous articles. "Well, take your time, take your time; there's plenty of it up here! I understand your husband's a doctor, ma'am?"

"Yes, he is," said the summer resident, who in spite of warnings from city neighbors that she had better display no haughtiness of spirit under questioning, was unable to put much cordiality into her tone.

"Well, now, I come near bein' a doctor," said the fish-man, still with a wandering gaze. "My folks wanted I should be one, all exceptin' of an aunt that had money, and was looked to to help me out financially if I took up with a profession. She spent one summer here, and she made a reg'lar study of my character an' parts, and at the end of the season she up an' told my folks that 'twouldn't do, I must go into business.

"'That boy has got too much intellect to be hove away on a doctor,' she said; those were her very words. Now how would you like a couple o' good mack'rel all slit up an' ready for the br'iler?"

Voice from Arkansas.

Cleveland, Ark., August 15 (Special).—Nearly every newspaper tells of some wonderful cure of some form of Kidney Disease by the Great American Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and this part of Arkansas is not without its share of evidence that no case is too deeply rooted for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was fitful, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be."—MRS. M. E. HUGHSON, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Ordinary Tasks Produce Displacements.

Apparently trifling incidents in woman's daily life frequently produce displacements of the womb. A slip on the stairs, lifting during menstruation, standing at a counter, running a sewing machine, or attending to the most ordinary tasks may result in displacement, and a train of serious evils is started.

The first indication of such trouble should be the signal for quick action. Don't let the condition become chronic through neglect or a mistaken idea that you can overcome it by exercise or leaving it alone.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

Mrs. Lelah Stowell, 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—You are indeed a godsend to women, and if they all knew what you could do for them, there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony.

"I suffered for years with bearing-down pains, womb trouble, nervousness, and excruciating headache, but a few bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy, and I do not know what sickness is, and I now enjoy the best of health."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can always be relied upon to restore health to women who thus suffer. It is a sovereign cure for the worst forms of female complaints,—that bearing-down feeling, weak back, falling and displacement of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, and all troubles of the uterus or womb. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in the early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. It subdues excitability, nervous prostration, and tones up the entire female system. Its record of cures is the greatest in the world, and should be relied upon with confidence.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

EDITORIAL MENTION.

It was very kind and thougthful of Judge Parker, in his speech at Rosewater Monnt, to assure the public that if the Democrats should succeed in putting him into the White House neither he nor his party could do any harm to the commercial interests of the country since the Senate is hopelessly Republican. How, then, under the same circumstances, could the Democrats do any good?

The famous Populist, Tom Watson, says the populist fires still burn fiercely within him. Can it be they are fed with wood alcohol? In speaking of the Democratic party he used more truth than poetry when he said: "It made its appeal to the Deity through a megaphone and drafted its platform by telegraph." The truth is the party had to do something out of the usual.

Patrick Egan, formerly United States Minister to Chili, and once an anti-imperialist, will support President Roosevelt. Corporal Tanner announces that he will take the stump for the President. Speaker Cannon has been stumping Vermont. He says President Roosevelt is the friend of the laboring man, and that he did a perfectly proper thing when he invited John Mitchell to the White House.

The Sun, of New York, has had a varied experience in the course of its career as a paper which shone for all. One need not recapitulate the list of all the candidates it has supported; enough for our present purpose to know that it refuses to sup upon the Democratic platform, which it describes as composed of "hell-broth, dishwater and dynamite," and that it announces it preferes the "impulsive candidate," Roosevelt, to the "representative of the Hun vote in the back ground." This is pretty severe, but the Sun always did use strenuous language.

A part of the ammunition for the campaign consists in the records of Congressmen as collated from the Congressional Record. If a member has cut a poor figure in Congress, or none at all, the Record shows that fact. Has he been a negative or a positive representative of the people? Has he been content to look simply after the interests of his own district, and bring in a large number of pension bills? Has he failed to take part in the great and broad questions which concern the welfare of all the people as a nation? Was he attentive to his duties; did he vote on all important questions? These facts, and many more, are now being carefully culled from the Record, and will be used in more than one closely contested district, for or against a candidate as the case may be.

MUST LOOK TO CONGRESS

Pennsylvania's Interests Have Much at Stake at Next Election.

AGGRESSIVE FIGHT TO BE MADE

A United States Senator and Thirty-two Representatives to the House Who Will Vote On Tariff Legislation Will Be Chosen.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, Aug. 23.—Naturally interest centres here in the selection of members of the general assembly, as the next legislature, which meets here in January next, will be called upon to elect a United States senator for the full term of six years to succeed Governor Pennypacker's appointee, Philander Knox.

Among the nominees for the senate and the house who have been placed in the field already are many new candidates, and there is considerable speculation regarding the outcome of the contests in several districts.

The election of a stalwart Republican to the United States senate is of paramount importance to the vast industrial and other interests of Pennsylvania, as is also the matter of the election of Republican candidates for the national house of representatives.

The election of candidates for the legislature, who will have a vote on the United States senatorship, and the success of Republican nominees in the 32 congressional districts in this state will occupy the attention of the party leaders from now until the 8th of November next, when the ballots will be cast and counted.

Senator Penrose, as chairman of the Republican state committee, will give personal attention to this phase of the campaign, and he will have the hearty co-operation of every loyal member of the Republican organization throughout the state.

The fight for the election of these candidates will be made upon clean-cut lines, and will be aggressive from the start.

The voters of Pennsylvania will have impressed upon them the fact that the Democracy has ever been antagonistic to the Pennsylvania idea of the protective tariff, and that it is vitally essential that the Republican majorities in both branches of congress shall be maintained, in order that the great manufacturing interests, the vast army of industrial workers and the millions upon millions of capital invested, shall be kept free from harmful legislation at Washington.

In some respects, Republican loss of congress would be more disastrous to Pennsylvania's interests than the loss of the presidency.

It is pointed out that the Republicans have a majority of less than 30 in the present house of representatives and that a change of 15 votes would give the house to the Democrats.

It is known that the Democrats are figuring upon gains in the congressional districts of Pennsylvania.

Colonel Guffey and his associates in the management of the Democratic machine have been boasting to the Tammany leaders in New York that they will have a gain of half a dozen congressmen in this state, and they have persuaded the party managers to put up a liberal campaign fund to put their plans into operation.

They are talking of carrying the Luzerne, Lackawanna and Schuylkill districts in the anthracite coal regions, and are predicting as absolutely certain to go Democratic the York-Adams district, the Berks-Lehigh district, the Northampton - Monroe - Pike - Carbon district and the Northumberland-Columbia-Montour district, and one or two others.

The Democrats are always hopeful, particularly in national campaigns, but this time they seem to be unusually aggressive. This fact has made the Republican leaders determined to leave nothing undone to rouse the Republican committeemen and others throughout the commonwealth and have them put forward their best efforts to thwart the Democratic plans.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, who is in charge at the Republican state headquarters in Philadelphia during the temporary absence of Chairman Penrose, wrote to a friend in this city a few days ago saying that it is Senator Penrose's intention to work to offset every move of the Democracy and to labor to keep their representation down to the lowest point possible.

The Democrats now have three members of the house from Pennsylvania—Kline, of Lehigh; Schull, of Monroe; and Dickerson, of Northumberland.

Senator Penrose believes that he will be able to hold them down to three members, and he may succeed in cutting them down to two.

This will require a vast amount of work and the expenditure of much energy in lining up the party workers to get the Republican voters out on election day.

The greatest danger to the Republican cause will be in the apathy of the voters. It is difficult to make Republicans in Pennsylvania believe that there is any Democratic party in this state, but time and again the minority party has succeeded in electing members of congress through Republican indifference or over-confidence.

It is not intended that this shall be permitted in the present canvass.

An effective organization will be formed in every debatable congressional district, and a corps of trained orators will be available to address mass meetings to be arranged for by the chairmen of the several county committees.

That $41,000,000 deficit ought not to keep Mr. Henry Gassaway Davis awake nights. He is good for more than half that sum himself.

Mr. Henry G. Davis forgot to mention that the $41,000,000 deficit is due to payment of $50,000,000 for the Panama Canal. Would he have us infer that he is not in favor of the Canal?

Thompson's Barosma or Kidney Cure acts quickly, taking up the uric acid, curing the kidneys and restoring them to their normal functions. Thompson's Barosma is pleasant to take. For sale by R. C. Man's structure, compared with that of other animals, indicates that fruits and esculent vegetables are his natural food. The man-like apes live exclusively upon fruits, nuts and green leaves.

The peat bogs of the province of Ontario are not exceeded in extent by those of any other country in the world. In the southern part of the province the bogs, while not of very large area, are of sufficient size to be the basis of a large fuel supply.

The royal Italian minister of finance has just granted an Italian firm permission to import, free of duty, electric power by wire from a power station to be erected in Swiss territory. In giving his decision the minister of finance said that no provision had been made in the Italian tariff for taxing imported electric power.

The precious mineral production of the Cripple Creek district, Colorado's great mining camp, for the month of June, 1904, was $1,607,000, with an average value of $27 per ton and a tonnage of 52,700. All the old producers are maintaining their output, and many new lessees are shipping from recently opened mines ore bodies of phenomenal value.

On account of the removal of the Southern Pacific division point from Wadsworth, Nev., the population and buildings of that town of railway men are to be transferred to a new town called Sparks, two miles east of Reno. The railway company has given its employes lots in Sparks in exchange for their lots in Wadsworth and is moving their houses on flatcars.

The Bertillion system of measuring criminals is going out of date. The London police have found it unsatisfactory and experimented with a new system. It has proved successful, and is going to be adopted generally in England. The Berlin police have inaugurated a card collection of impressions of the fingers for recognition purposes, a system which they call "Daktylioscopy."

Ross, Herefordshire, can boast of a church where two fine elms are growing one on either side of a pew once occupied by a member named John Kyrle. Mr. Kyrle was a great lover of trees, and especially of elms, of which he planted an avenue near the church. One of the trees of this avenue was cut down, and it is supposed that its offshoots have grown up inside the church at each end of the pew.

The American uses astonishingly few slang words in speaking of pieces of money—perhaps because he has greater respect for it. A five-cent piece is usually referred to as a nickel, but this is practically the only slang term applied to any of our money in general use. A dime is officially a dime, and so is a quarter. But turn to the English appellations for their money, and hardly a bit of it is referred to under the authorized and official designation.

The oldest existent pharmacy in the world, the fact of its priority never having been disputel, is the quaint and conspicuous building located in the old town of Knaresborough, on the Nidd river, Yorkshire, Eng., which pharmacy was established in 1720. At the date named it was in possession of James Beckwith, since which time it has been occupied by six other chemists in succession, the present owner and occupant being William Pierpont Lawrence.

The secretary of the Palestine exploration fund announces that the excavators of the site of the ancient Levitical City of Gezer has discovered part of an inscribed tablet written in cuneiform characters on both faces. Impressions of 13 lones on one face and five on the other have been taken and are on the way to London for decipherment. The previous discoveries at Gezer included remarkable evidences of human sacrifices and prehistoric occupation.

The output of the Texas oil fields for the current year shows a healthy increase over that of the preceding one, indicating that the apprehension of decline in productions was groundless. For the six months ending June 30 the movement of oil was as follows: Port shipments 5,154,000 barrels, railroad shipments 4,000,000 barrels, a total of 9,154,00 barrels. To this must be added the field consumption, estimated at 8,000 barrels a day, which would make for the six months 1,456,000 barrels.

TWO NEGROES ARE LYNCHED.

THEY CONFESSED TO KILLING AN ENTIRE FAMILY.

Statesboro, Ga., Is the Scene of Mob Violence — Negroes Taken from Jail and Burned at the Stake.

Statesboro, Ga., Aug. 17.—With clothing saturated with kerosene, writhing and twisting in their agony, screaming to heaven for the mercy that the mob would not show, Paul Reed and Will Cato, negroes, two of the principals in the murder and burning of Henry Hodges and wife, and three of their children, six miles from Statesboro, three weeks ago, were burned at the stake yesterday.

At 1:21 o'clock a determined mob charged on the court house, overpowered the military guard, secured Cato and Reed, who had been found guilty after a legal trial, and sentenced to be hanged, took them two miles from Statesboro and there burned them alive.

The forenoon had passed quietly, the trial of Paul Reed, the ringleader in the murder, being concluded and a verdict of guilty rendered. Both he and Will Cato, found guilty the day before, were sentenced to hang September 9.

In the trial of Reed little delay had been caused and on its conclusion the prisoners were hustled into the witness room, where a strong guard of military was mounted over them.

The spectators left the court room and from the lawn outside many entered the hallways. Shortly before 1 o'clock the crowd was addressed by a man who called on those about him to follow him. Then Capt. Hitch, of the Oglethorpe light infantry, realized that the situation was desperate. He posted guards on each of the stairways that led to the floor above, where the prisoners were confined. With fixed bayonets, but unloaded rifles, the guard stood. The mob surged toward them, but were repulsed several times.

At the rear stairway the gravest danger threatened. Prominent men, among them Rev. Hodges, brother of the murdered man, sprang to the front and addressed the crowd. They begged it to disperse.

The crowd caught two of the guards, wrested their weapons from them and found the weapons were empty. That was what the crowd wanted to ascertain. The troops had been given orders not to load their rifles. The captured soldiers were held prisoners. The same policy was followed with others of the soldiers. Man after man was relieved of his rifle and soon the soldiers, though they fought desperately and inflicted bayonet wounds upon some of their assailants, were overpowered.

The small guard about the prisoners withdrew into the room and closed the door. The mob crashed against it, bursting it as though it were an egg shell. The prisoners were at their mercy.

Reed was taken down one stairway with a rope about his neck and Cato down the other, both pleading for their lives. The doomed men were dragged along the road leading to the Hodges homestead.

The heat was so intense that the crowd wearied when two miles of the six-mile route had been traversed. Going 75 yards from the road the crowd halted. The two negroes were made to sit on a log. They were told that they had but a short time to live and that they should confess.

Reed confessed, implicating other negroes. He denied, however, that he had taken an active part in the murder. Cato answered incoherently.

To a stump 12 feet high the men were chained with their backs to the stump. Then a wagon load of pine wood was hauled to the spot. It was piled around the men and ten gallons of kerosene were thrown over them.

As the flames touched Reed's skin he twisted his head around in an endeavor to choke himself and avoid the torture. Only once did he complain. He said: "Lord, have mercy."

Cato screamed in agony and begged that he be shot. As soon as it was seen that the men were dead the crowd commenced dispersing.

AGAINST MORMONISM.

The Democratic Convention of Idaho Makes a Strong Declaration.

Lewiston, Idaho, Aug. 17.—The Dubois-Heitfeld forces regained control of the Idaho democratic convention yesterday, routing the Mormon forces after a fierce fight. Monday night the anti-Dubois forces succeeded in striking the anti-Mormon plank out of the platform by a vote of 153 to 131. Adjournment was then taken. During the recess the Idaho county delegation was rounded up and swung into line for Dubois.

When the convention assembled Tuesday the following resolution was presented and carried through by the Dubois forces led by the senator himself:

"We demand the extermination of polygamy and unlawful cohabitation within the borders of Idaho and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs. We pledge the democratic party to enact such legislation as will eventually suppress this evil."

The First Campaign Contribution.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 17.—George Peabody, treasurer of the democratic national committee, arrived here Tuesday. He said the first campaign contribution he received as treasurer was from an Episcopal clergyman over 80 years old. The clergyman wrote that while he did not know whether he would live to vote for Parker and Davis, he wanted to send a dollar bill, all he could afford, with the hope that the campaign fund would be made up of the dollars of a million voters rather than the larger gifts of rich men.

Specials From the War Arena.

VERY CLOSE TO PORT ARTHUR.

Che Foo, Aug. 18.—According to news received here yesterday the Japanese line has been drawn still closer around Port Arthur. The right wing of the Japanese line has penetrated to the vicinity of Pigeon Bay, while the center has moved to Palingching, which is two miles north of the town. Chinese are authority for the above outline of the new Japanese positions.

Tokio, Aug. 18.—Six hundred and one men of the Russian cruiser Rurik, sunk in the engagement Sunday with the Japanese squadron, have been landed at Sasebo. One man died there and 177 of the survivors are wounded, a number mortally. The number of officers rescued has not been determined, as all the survivors were naked when captured, having stripped off their clothing before the cruiser sank. Thus it is impossible to distinguish the officers from the other men.

It is reported that the Port Arthur garrison has refused to surrender and is disinclined to send out non-combatants.

London, Aug. 18.—A dispatch from Vladivostok, dated August 17, says the cruisers Rossia and Gromoboi, of the Vladivostok squadron, have returned there.

According to the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Che Foo, refugees arriving there say that the Japanese shells have ignited lighters in the docks at Port Arthur which contained supplies of coal, resulting in a terrific conflagration. Many of the buildings have been demolished and the hospitals are crowded.

REFUSES TO SURRENDER.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—An official dispatch from Vladivostok shows that every officer on the Rossia and Gromoboi was either killed or wounded. Rear Admiral Jessen narrowly escaped the fate of Admiral Withoft. He was standing on the bridge of the Rossia when it was wrecked by a shell. The two Russian cruisers were literally riddled, their guns and engines being partially dismantled. The escape of the Russian vessels from Admiral Kamimura's four cruisers is regarded as a wonderful piece of luck. It is presumed that the pursuers of the Russian ships did not dare go far north, fearing that some of the vessels of the Port Arthur squadron would break through the Straits of Korea.

A dispatch to the Japanese legation from Tokio announces that a reply has been received from the commander of the Russian forces at Port Arthur refusing either to surrender to the besieging force of Japanese or to send out the non-combatants.

Tsingtau, Aug. 19.—All the ammunition of the Russian battleship Czarevitch and the three torpedo boat destroyers has been removed and stored in a German magazine.

Che Foo, Aug. 19.—A battle of huge proportions raged around Port Arthur August 14 and 15, and was resumed August 17. The Japanese, it is reported sacrificed 20,000 more men, but gained important advantages in the matter of position. The above news was brought here on junks, one of which had on board three Russians concealed in the baggage of Chinese.

GUNBOAT STRUCK A MINE.

Tokio, Aug. 20.—A Russian gunboat struck a mine and sank off Laoti promontory, the extreme southern point of the Kwang Tung peninsula, on which Port Arthur is situated, Thursday night.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The state department has received a cablegram from Che Foo, dated Friday, the substance of which is as follows: "This morning seven Japanese destroyers entered the harbor and met an unknown steamer entering, which they captured. Two Japanese cruisers are outside the harbor."

Che Foo, Aug. 20.—Chinese who have arrived here from Port Arthur declare that the Japanese position at Patung-Chang, from which they poured a heavy fire into Port Arthur and the forts has been retaken.

The German authorities at Tsingtau have sent a guard of 100 men to a point 15 miles east of that place for the purpose of frustrating an expected attempt on the part of the Japanese to erect a wireless telegraph station.

Chinese who embarked from Liaotienshan promontory at 11 o'clock Thursday morning report the continuance of heavy fighting. They say the Japanese have occupied Pigeon Bay and are within striking distance of the Liaotienshan forts, which, however, are still occupied by the Russians.

According to the Chinese the Russians at Port Arthur are making their final stand.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—The admiralty received official information yesterday that Vice Admiral Ouktomsky's five battleships and the cruiser Pallada are at Port Arthur. A telegram received here from the Russian consul at Che Foo does not mention whether the vessels are damaged and makes no reference to the report from Tokio that a gunboat had been sunk off the Laoti promontory, owing to having collided with a mine.

Ex-Banker Spalding Is Free.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Charles W. Spalding, the former bank president, who was convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for embezzlement, was yesterday discharged from the penitentiary by Judge Dunne. The order of the court discharging the ex-banker from custody was based upon a technicality in the original indictment. Spalding had already served several years of his sentence. Spalding will now proceed with a contest of his father's will, by which the son was cut off without a penny.

SWEPT BY A FIERCE TORNADO.

LOSS OF PROPERTY IN NORTH ST. LOUIS IS $100,000.

One Man Was Killed and Fifty People Injured — Trolley Car Buried Under Telegraph Poles.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—A tornado of small proportions but of extreme fury swept down on the residence portion of North St. Louis yesterday, resulting in the death of one person, John Ellington, injury to probably 50, and damage to property estimated at $100,000.

Herman Sauerwine, aged 10, was, it is believed, fatally injured. A shower had passed over St. Louis earlier in the day, but there had been no rain in North St. Louis. The sky had cleared and the atmosphere had become very murky and hot when citizens in North St. Louis noticed a dark cloud approaching from the southwest.

Suddenly, and without the slightest premonition, an arm seemed to shoot to the ground like a gigantic cable, twisting and turning. The end touched the ground at Nineteenth and Angelrod streets and with incredible swiftness and force swept east along Angelrod street for ten blocks, then turned north and swept three blocks along Broadway, when it jumped eight blocks northeast to the foot of Breman street and the river, where considerable property along the river front was destroyed. The tornado then jumped to about the middle of the river and encountered a ferry boat, which was turned and tossed about, but was not sunk.

Leaving the ferry, the tornado once more jumped and struck the Illinois shore near Madison, where it demolished several dwellings, the Leiderkranz hall and blew down a portion of the Madison cooper works, killing John Ellington. Severe damage was done also to buildings in Venice and Granite City, which adjoin Madison, and a number of persons were injured.

A Broadway trolley car containing 11 passengers was suddenly buried under six telegraph poles, which crashed into the top and wrecked the car. The passengers had a remarkable escape from injury and only the motorman received slight bruises.

The roof and half of the top story of Sommers Brothers' tailoring establishment were blown away. Probably the heaviest loss suffered by a single concern was at the Niedringhaus rolling mill. The plant covers two squares. The big smoke stack was blown down and half the plant was demolished, entailing an estimated damage of $25,000. Six employes were injured in this plant.

Not the slightest damage was done at the world's fair grounds. The exposition is situated over five miles from the seat of the tornado.

Venice, Ill., Aug. 20.—The tornado that swept across the river from North St. Louis yesterday killed Mrs. Margaret Beal, injured ten others and caused considerable damage to property.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Confidence in Continued Improvement Is Somewhat Unsettled.

New York, Aug. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Confidence in continued improvement of trade has been somewhat unsettled by sensational events in the wheat market and the lack of harmony between labor and capital. It is becoming evident that estimates of the wheat crop must be reduced, although other agricultural news is much better than usual. Insofar as the purchasing power of the farmer is concerned, prices have risen so sharply that any loss in quantity promises to be made up, but this obvious fact is not appreciated by those dealers who are making less preparation for future trade. Some disappointment is also felt by those who counted upon an early resumption of activity in building operations and other industries hampered by labor controversies. Otherwise the week has continued much of an encouraging nature.

In several manufacturing lines there is less idle machinery, and visiting retail buyers have stimulated jobbing trade, especially in dry goods and kindred lines.

A general reduction in prices of wire products, averaging about $5 a ton, was announced by a subsidiary company of the United States Steel Corporation, and aroused more interest than was warranted, because this public action is only in line with what has been done heretofore privately.

Failures this week numbered 226 in the United States, against 238 last year, and 24 in Canada, compared with 8 a year ago.

Sons of Veterans Elect Officers.

Boston, Aug. 20.—At the annual convention of the National Sons of Veterans yesterday William E. Dustin, of Dwight, Ill., was elected commander-in-chief by acclamation. The following officers also were chosen by acclamation: Senior vice commander-in-chief, George S. Geis, of San Francisco; junior vice commander-in-chef, M. D. Friedman, of Birmingham, Ala.; quartermaster general, Fred E. Bolton, of Boston (re-elected). It was voted to hold the next convention at Gettysburg, Pa.

Rice Sues the Standard for $3,000,000.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 20.—George Rice, of Marietta, O., commenced suit in the United States circuit court yesterday for $3,000,000 damages against the Standard Oil Co. for the alleged ruining of his oil business by the defendant company. Rice charges that the Standard compelled railroads to charge his customers exorbitant freight rates; that the company opened grocery stores to break down his competition and in other ways succeeded in taking away from him 4,000 customers, an oil refining plant worth $750,000 and a business worth $50,000.

ACHED IN EVERY BONE.

Chicago Society Woman Who Was So Sick She Could Not Sleep or Eat, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Marion Knight, of 33 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Orator of the West Side Wednesday Club, says: "This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had intense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy and I could barely eat enough food to live. I felt a change for the better within a week. The second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $6 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health."

The St. Louis World's Fair as a Great Educator

It Is More Valuable Than Months of Study or a Trip Around the World. Accommodations for Visitors Moderate and Ample

St. Louis.—I was standing on the Plaza St. Louis, admiring the scene that stretched away into the distance before me, ending with the magnificent spectacle of the Cascades. I needed no company, for the great exposition all around me was sufficient, but as I stood there an acquaintance, the president of a western college, stopped beside me.

"Magnificent beyond the dream of man," said I.

"More than that," said he. "Do you know," he continued, "to me the greatest thing of this truly great exposition is the educational influence it will have upon the millions who visit it. Here in two weeks' time one can gain more practical knowledge of the kind that will be useful to him in the struggle with the world than he can get in two years' time in any university. The college education is entirely different from the kind of education one gets by seeing things, but for practical purposes the 'seeing' education is quite as necessary as the book learning. We consider a trip to Europe as a great educator, but a trip to Europe cannot be compared to a trip to this exposition. Here is shown the best of all countries, and to see all that is shown here is to see the best from the countries of all the world.

"As for our country, what could be more instructive than the exhibits in our government building? After seeing it we understand far better than we could have before both the system and uses of government. Take the Philippine exhibit as another example. A half day's time spent within its walls is more instructive than a dozen text books. We are entirely too apt to read and forget, but when we see we remember, and here we see."

Examples that would bear out the statements of my college friend might be enumerated almost without end, and all would but tend to prove that the Louisiana Purchase exposition is the greatest educator of the age. We read the histories of the years to learn of the world's progress, but here we do not have to read, we see it. In the Transportation building we see the primitive locomotives that pulled our first railroad trains, and standing beside them we see the powerful, intricate machines that perform the same service to-day. That is an education in the progress of railroading. In the Electrical building we find the first primitive electrical appliances, and beside them the many intricate machines that are to-day being driven by this as yet unexplained power. That is up-to-date education in electricity. In our school geographies we are taught, among other things, of the products of the various countries. Here we see them. The book learning we forget, what we see we remember. Take, for example, Japan. We are interested in the progress of the island empire, we wonder at her greatness, we read volume after volume to learn of her progress. Here it is all spread out before our eyes. We see the same Japan Commodore Perry saw when he broke the bars of darkness that shut the empire from the world, and we see beside it the Japan that is to-day waging war with one of the greatest nations of the world, the same Japan that is an important element in the world's commerce. It is an education in the progress of Japan that no books can possibly give us.

And so it goes through all the great exposition palaces, through the foreign government buildings, through the state buildings, and down the Pike. Everywhere is a new and valuable lesson easily learned and never forgotten, for we learn it by "seeing."

To refer again to the United States government building and its exhibits as an educational feature, I want to quote a part of a paragraph from the current number of the World's Work that well illustrates the educational point I make. This is it:

"Watch a party of visitors from a Mississippi valley state, people who have never seen the sea, as they wander through the passages of the battleship model or squint along a rapid-fire gun on deck, across an imaginary ocean. The shine in their eyes betrays a mixture of excited interest and patriotic pride. Far though the coast may be from their homes, it is yet their coast that such battleships guard, and the battleships are theirs. And it is a semi-proprietary satisfaction that affords a good part of the pleasure that any American evinces in gazing at the processes or results of the many government activities he sees exploited here. A visitor will observe a hundred interesting novelties; he will leave the building—only to go back later for another look—round-eyed with amazement at the many things the government does for the people; but his spirit will be self-gratulatory—it is we who are doing it all."

Yet another among the thousand of exhibits that may be classed as educational is to be found in every aisle, in every corner of the Agricultural building. Here spread out before you are the products of the earth's harvest fields. In this one building, big enough in itself to contain the whole of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, are the farm products of every country. Here are sheaves of grain and heaps of corn, made opulent with milk and honey and butter, cotton-seed oil and cotton, tobacco, sugar cane, and fruit. There are towers and pagodas and pictures and panoramas in corn-husks, corn-cobs, corn-tassels and corn-kernels, tobacco-leaves and tobacco-grains, wheat-straw and wheat-heads and wheat-grains; and there are figures in cotton and butter and sugar and prunes and nuts. There are decorations in wavy moss and hemp, in rice-sheaves and prairie grasses. You know at last the wealth of each state for packed into each of the different sections is an abundant sample of all that springs from one state's soil—whether it be hill-farm potatoes, swamp rice, sea-island cotton, bottom-land corn, prairie wheat, desert dates or irrigated alfalfa. And in the same way you know the agricultural wealth of each of the world's nations, for they are spread out before you for your inspection. Everything grown upon the earth is here, and displayed and labeled so that the lesson the exhibit teaches is never forgotten.

And what does it cost to see this wonderful exposition, what is the price to be paid for this liberal education? It may be much or little, just as a sight-seeing trip to any city may be much or little. There are fashionable, high-priced hotels in St. Louis, just as there are in New York, in Chicago, in London or any other large city, but be it said to the credit of these hotels, they are no higher priced during the exposition than they were before it. The masses of the people are looking, however, for something less expensive, and it is easily found. The people of St. Louis are playing the part of host in a way that will make friends of the visitors to the fair. Thousands of homes have been opened for the accommodation of guests, and the prices charged for the accommodations provided are most moderate. In fact, to judge from what one must pay for board and room, one would scarcely imagine that the greatest exposition the world has ever known is in progress in the city. Boarding house prices compare favorably with those of other cities, and $1 per day will secure a comfortable room and breakfast in hundreds of these hospitable homes. No one needs deprive himself of the great education that awaits him at St. Louis for fear of exorbitant prices, for they are not to be found.

AN AVERAGE CROWD ON THE "PIKE" AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Two Injuries.

Perhaps the man who maltreats a book, even by accident, deserves to pay for it twice over, and logically he may sometimes be called upon to do it. A daily newspaper says that a borrower recently handed in a book at a public lending library, and the attendant thereupon discovered a hole in one of the leaves.

It was necessary to enter a description of the damage in a book kept on the counter. A clerk entered the title and number of the book, and the attendant described the damage thus:

"Page 215, a hole." Then he turned the leaf and added: "Page 216, another hole."—Youth's Companion.

Two years ago I suffered with female complaint and used your Aunt Dinah's Old Virginia Herb Tea with great success. I have just begun taking it again and I feel much younger and stronger. If every woman sufferer could know the relief she would experience by using your Herb Tea she would never be without it. A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and dispondency. They cannot, as a rule, get ride of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75. At all druggists. 48-ly.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkador, Iown, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by L. Taggart.

Queer Queries About Liberty Bell.

Reserve Policeman Patrick J. Garrity, who is stationed at Broad street and South Penn square, Philadelphia, is having his own troubles guarding the Liberty Bell at the St. Louis Exposition. In a letter to a friend he expresses his deep regret that he did not spend several months in the different libraries of the city saturating his mind with data concerning the sacred emblem of liberty he watches so carefully. Garrity is asked all kinds of questions about the bell, and in most cases is compelled to plead ignorance. He has kept a list of some of the queries and requests made to him.

A few of these are:

"Will you kindly sit on the bell and hold my baby, while I take a snapshot of you all?"

"How old is the Liberty Bell?"

"Is this the real bell, or is it a fake?"

"Who owns the bell?"

"Who made the crack?"

"How much will you give me to repair the crack?"

"Didn't the original bell get lost at sea, while it was being sent to England for repairs?"

"Wasn't this bell made from pennies contributed by the school children of the United States?"

"What would you do if someone stole the bell?"

"How much will you charge for a chip of the bell?"

"Is it against the rules to kiss the bell?"

"Wasn't the Liberty Bell sent to Cuba to ring out their independence?"

"Did George Washington pay for the bell out of his own pocket?"

"How is it that the officials do not send a Democrat to guard the bell?"

"Did Betsy Ross make that flag that surrounds the bell?"

"Why don't you have the clapper on the outside, so we can see it?"

"What time of day do you ring it?"

"Wasn't the Liberty Bell given to William Penn by the Indians, when he made the treaty with them?"

A Wonderful Saving

The largest Methodist Church in Georgia, calculated to use over one hundred gallons of the usual kind of mixed paint in painting their church.

They used only 32 gallons of the Longman & Martinez Paint with 24 gallons of linseed oil. Actual cost of paint made was less than $1.20 per gallon.

Saved over eighty ($80.00) dollars in paint, and got a big donation besides.

EVERY CHURCH will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M., and three gallons of linseed oil mixed therewith.
